

Mench Financial, Inc. Markets Outlook 3Q 2020

The composite U.S. Treasury curve yield is currently 0.64%. Over the next twelve months, we believe that fixed income annual total returns will be very nominal to negative. We will continue to favor short and intermediate term investment grade bonds over long-term bonds.

Due to improved liquidity and higher P/E valuations, we are projecting that equities will produce positive annual total returns for the next twelve months. Based on these forecasts, we are strongly emphasizing domestic and international equities over fixed income securities.
